What to Expect...

Connect with Educators, Social Workers and Agency workers who care for Homeless and Unaccompanied Youth in the Seattle Area.

Learn about the Educational Rights of Homeless and Unaccompanied Youth and Youth awaiting Foster Care, as outlined in Title X, McKinney-Vento Legislation.

Learn how to navigate and access Educational Opportunities for McKinney-Vento Qualified Students.

Learn about social services available in the Seattle Area for homeless families, and how to advocate for those services.

Hear from individuals and families who experienced homelessness in the past, or who dealt with the realities of being an unaccompanied youth - What they recommend to educators and to social service agencies to improve access to education for themselves and their children.

Sponsored by Highline Public Schools in cooperation with SKCCH Families with Children Committee
